HISD had to carefully modify units to avoid con?icts or redundancies, which demanded considerable time and expertise from curriculum developers.

Moreover, some educators expressed concerns about the potential rigidity of adopting a standardized program like SpringBoard, fearing it might limit their instructional ?exibility. Ensuring teacher buy-in required ongoing professional development and support to demonstrate how SpringBoard could be adapted creatively to meet diverse classroom needs.

Resource allocation was another consideration. The implementation required investment in training, materials, and technology to fully realize the bene?ts of the alignment. HISD needed to manage these logistical aspects without disrupting existing instructional practices.
